INTRODUCTION

Leading from the front is clearly linked with the life that is led before others. Being responsible of one's action, lays the foundation stone of the house. Besides emphasis on academics & co-curricular activities, the inculcation of values in the young minds is a lack that becomes the order of the day. The cadets of the House have shown immense promise and have in turn taken the house from strength to strength. Feeling of oneness, dependence on one another and mutual respect have been resonating the domains of the House and we are sanguine that as a unit we can scale heights unfathomable.

ACADEMICS

The base of poise and self worth is eminence and mastery of one's domain of work. The academic scheme lays the foundation for the young cadets. The nurturing of the cadets and reaping them with seeds of elevated purpose, earnest endeavour, scholarly focus and the presight to view impediments as stepping stones prepares them to contribute in a wholesome manner. The cadets came up with scintillating results on the academic front. The house compliments the cadets who brought laurels to the house through their soil and effort which in turn helped them to reach exemplary levels.
